CCGA | Chicago Council on Global Affairs

시카고국제문제협회 / 미국 시카고

The Chicago Council on Global Affairs, founded in 1922, is an independent, non-partisan organization committed to educating the public—and influencing the public discourse—on global issues of the day. The Council provides a forum in Chicago for world leaders, policymakers, and other experts to speak to its members and the public on these issues. Long known for its public opinion surveys of American views on foreign policy, The Chicago Council also brings together stakeholders to examine issues and offer policy insight into areas such as global agriculture, the global economy, global energy, global cities, global security, and global immigration.

Mission and Values

The Council has heightened its emphasis on trends and themes, including the global economy, democratization, sovereignty and intervention, global institutions, and a changing America. The Council has also shifted emphasis to less familiar areas of the world, especially Asia, Africa, and Latin America. Additionally, the Council is moving beyond its historic concentration on public education in Chicago and expanding its influence on opinion and policy regarding global issues through activities such as task forces, conferences, and study groups.

KF Internship Research Topics

- ▶ Public Opinion: The Chicago Council Survey regularly features in-depth examinations of major topics in relations between the US and key Asian nations, including Korea.
- ▶ Global Cities: The Global Cities Project focuses on how cities will drive policy decisions and international relations and builds on the Council's work on global cities, global agriculture and food security, the global economy, global immigration, global water, global security, global energy, and public opinion.
